PAPERS

A) Remote Sensing Techniques

Kite Aerial Photography in High Mountain Ecosystem Research Dirk Wundram and Jörg Löffler	15
Operational Use of Airborne Laser Scanning for Forestry Applications in Complex Mountainous Terrain Markus Hollaus and Wolfgang Wagner	23
Generation of Digital Surface Models from Very High Resolution Optical Stereo Data in Alpine Regions Karlheinz Gutjahr and Hannes Raggam	31
Direct Georeferencing in Alpine Environments from a Helicopter Klaus Legat, Jan Skaloud, and Philipp Schaer	41
Airborne Laser Scanning and Radar Interferometry for Digital Topographic Modelling and Flood Risk Assessment Anthea L. Mitchell, Linlin Ge, Hsing-Chung Chang, Lance Hazell, and Anthony K. Milne	49

B) Morphological Mapping

The Derivation of Indicators for Landslide Detection Using Very High Resolution (VHR) Satellite Imagery Klaus Granica, Manuela Hirschmugl, Herwig Proske, Mathias Schardt, Helmut Wallner, and Michael Wurm	59
Geomorphological Mapping in Wales, UK, Based on Remotely Sensed Data Eva A. Sahlin, Neil F. Glasser, and Aled P. Rowlands	67
An Automated Method to Delineate the Ice Extension of the Debris-Covered Glaciers at Mt. Everest Based on ASTER Imagery Manfred F. Buchroithner and Tobias Bolch	71

C) Monitoring of Environment

Variations of Pasterze Glacier (Austria) Between 1994-2006 - Combination of Different Data Sets for Spatial Analyses Michael Avian, Gerhard K. Lieb, Andreas Kellerer-Pirklbauer, and Arnold Bauer	79
Relationships Between Landform and Phyto-Diversity in the Turtmann Valley, Switzerland Konstanze Kleinod and Gunter Menz	89
Habitat Monitoring in Alpine Regions by Means of QuickBird Data Ursula Schmitt, Michaela Nutz, and Mathias Schardt	95

Integration of Different Kind of Remote Sensing Data as a Tool for Quantitative Analysis of Glacier Evolution Fabio Villa, Simone Sironi, Mattia DeAmicis, Valter Maggi, Francesco Zucca, and Andrea Tamburini	103
Snow and Vegetation Monitoring in the Scandinavian Mountains Jostein Amlien, Lars Aurdal, Line Eikvil, Ragnar Huseby, Hans Koren, Rune Solberg, and Kari Anita Pulver	109
D) Permafrost Studies and Rock Glacier Monitoring
ERS InSAR for Detecting Slope Movement in a Periglacial Mountain Environment (Western Valais Alps, Switzerland) Reynald Delaloye, Christophe Lambiel, Ralph Lugon, Hugo Raetzo, and Tazio Strozzi	113
Paraglacial Talus Slope Instability in Recently Deglaciaded Cirques (Schober Group Austria) Andreas Kellerer-Pirklbauer and Viktor Kaufmann	121
Short-Term Changes in Surface Velocities on the Becs-de-Bosson Rock Glacier (Western Swiss Alps) Eric Perruchoud and Reynald Delaloye	131
Mapping of the 3D Surface Motion Field of Doesen Rock Glacier (Ankogel Group, Austria) and its Spatio-Temporal Change (1954-1998) by Means of Digital Photogrammetry Viktor Kaufmann and Richard Ladstädter	137
Creep of Two Alpine Rock Glaciers – Observation and Modelling (Ötztal- and Stubai Alps, Austria) Helmut Hausmann, Karl Krainer, Ewald Brückl, and Wolfram Mostler	145
Geodesic and Photogrammetric Techniques for the Cartographic Production and the Observation of the Geomorphic Dynamic of the “Corral del Veleta” Active Rock Glacier (Sierra Nevada - Spain) José Juan de Sanjosé Blasco, Alan D.J. Atkinson Gordo, Ferran Salvador Franch, Antonio Gómez Ortiz, and Javier de Matías Bejarano	151
E) High Mountain Cartography and 3D Relief Depiction
About Life and Work of a Patriarch of Austrian Alpine Cartography Gerhard Brandstätter	159
Satellite Image and Relief Representation: A Contribution to the Theory of Mountain Cartography Robert Kostka	167
Cartographic Production (1998 - 2006) of the Popocatepetl Volcano and the Ventorillo Glacier for the Analysis of Hydrovolcanic Risks José Juan de Sanjosé Blasco, Alan D.J. Atkinson Gordo, Nuria Andrés de Pablo, José Juan Zamorano Orozco, David Palacios Estremera, and Javier de Matías Bejarano	175
Continious Datasets from Satellite Imagery for Land Cover Mapping in Mountain Cartography Martin Gamache	183
F) Hybrid Solutions of GIS and Remote Sensing
Assessment of the Condition of High Altitude Pastures in South Tibet Supported by Land Cover Maps Derived from ASTER Satellite Data Erwin Heine, Monika Kriechbaum, and Franz Suppan	193
The Diversity of Nature and how to Manage it with Geo-Spatial-Technologies - Experiences in Sustainability got from Fieldwork in Hohentauern Josef Gspurning and Wolfgang Sulzer	201
Using a Geographic Information System to Analyze and Display Breeding Bird and Habitat Data Utilizing Image Base Maps for Decision Making Related to Land Management John E. Northeimer, Randall L. Jones, and Ronald Quillen	209

G) Methodological Improvements Concerning HMRSC

- Ecology of the Mountainous Environment as a Complex System 219
Saturnino Leguizamón
- Mountain Knowledge Hub Initiative in the Hindu Kush-Himalayan Region 227
Basnta Shrestha
- A New Semi-Automatic Tool for 3-Dimensional Landform Mapping 235
Martin Schneider and Jan-Christoph Otto
- Automated Boundary Delineation and Spatial Change Assessment of Alpine Habitats (Berchtesgaden National Park, Germany) 243
Elisabeth Weinke and Stefan Lang

H) Education

- „Mountains from Space“ – a Book Based on Remote Sensing Data for Supporting Public Understanding of Science 251
Nils Sparwasser, Robert Meisner, Thorsten Andresen, and Stefan Dech
- Earth Observation Education in the Hindu Kush-Himalayan Region, an ESA Initiative 259
Juerg Lichtenegger, Peter Brogger Sorensen, Maurizio Fea, and Jean-Charles Bigot
- An Integrated Design of a Geospatial Program with an Information Technology Core 265
Randall L. Jones, James O. Brumfield, Michael Little, Juan de Dios Barrios, John Northeimer, and Ronald Quillin

FIELD GUIDE

- Southeastern and Central Austria: Fieldguide of the HMRSC-IX (2006) Post-Symposium Excursion 275
Gerhard K. Lieb
